Everybody needs help at some point in their lives and therefore the ethos of early help is an important focus for Linden Primary School. Early Help is all about children, young people and their families getting the right support at the right time, providing this support as soon as a problem emerges.

At Linden Primary school we have a dedicated team who are committed to safeguarding children and protecting their welfare. Our Inclusion Team works closely with the children of Linden and their families to ensure an holistic approach to every child's development.

We appreciate that every child has a different level of need and this level of need can be different at a range of times within their lives. Therefore it is important to consider the level of the child's and family's needs, to ensure that the right support and help is given. By examining the children's needs we can consider which professionals and Early Help Partners should be involved, to ensure that children are supported and safeguarded no matter what their level of need is. The table below identifies the level of need of the child and family and corresponding provision and services that would be appropriate to support these needs at that time.

Children and Families' Level of Need	School Provision	Local Provision
Universal Children are making typical development academically and emotionally. Children and Families do not need support from Early Partnerships, apart from what is universally on offer.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The Inclusion team: All our Inclusion Team are available to all families in a pastoral manner. Any family can contact the Inclusion Team with a concern. If the member of the team does not have the answer, they will sign post to a service that will. Our team consists of an Inclusion lead, who is also SENDCo, designated teacher, EAL lead, pastoral lead and attendance lead. In addition to this, we have a parent support advisor, attendance officer and a number of members of staff trained to provide different levels of pastoral support. We also have 4 members of the Inclusion Team who are DSL trained. All members of staff who are DSL trained are signed up to the GCSB's email alerts. • Teaching and learning at Linden: Our Linden curriculum aims to develop all pupils so that they can become lifelong learners. All learning is based on quality first teaching that is tailored to the needs of the individual pupil. Curriculum leads are aware of the range of needs within the school and adapt the curriculum accordingly. • PSHE curriculum: Linden have a specific PSHE curriculum embedded into our 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Gloucester Families and Information Service (FIS): give impartial advice and information on child care, finances, parenting and education.
